Circular Reasoning
An argument in which the premise validates the conclusion while the conclusion validates the premise.

I have a special book written by space lizards!

How do you know it was written by space lizards?

Because the book says so. Duh.
BEGGING THE QUESTION FALLACY
“Virus Isolation”

Premise:
1. Viruses are present in the patient
2. Viruses cause CPE

Add patient fluid to foreign cell culture + additives

Conclusion:
CPE was caused by viruses (1) present in the patient (2)

CPE observed
Premise:
1. Viruses are present in the patient
2. Viruses have a genome of 30,000 bp

Conclusion:
Pick candidate of 30,000 bp (2) and call it viral (1) genome

Extract RNA from patient fluid and make cDNA library using PCR

Sequence 50 million oligo reads and use software to construct over 1 million candidate genomes

SCIENTIFIC

THEORIES
Science does not promise absolute truth, nor does it consider that such a thing necessarily exists. Science does not even promise that everything in the Universe is amenable to the scientific process.

Isaac Asimov
To know that we know what we know, and to know that we do not know what we do not know, that is true knowledge.

Nicolaus Copernicus
The pursuit of truth is your spiritual journey.

-Neil Kramer
BECOMING AN AUTODIDACT
“Discernment is not knowing the difference between right and wrong. It is knowing the difference between right and almost right.”

C.H. SPURGEON
The Scientific Method
A collection of beliefs or practices mistakenly regarded as being based on the scientific method.
A logical fallacy is a flaw or error in reasoning. Logical fallacies are like tricks or illusions of thought, and they are often very sneakily used by corporations, politicians and the media to fool people.

CORRESPONDENCE

That which is Above is like to that which is Below. That which is Below is like to that which is Above. The Macrocosm (the very large; the totality) and the Microcosm (the very small; the individual units which comprise the whole) are reflections of each other. The Universe is Holographic; it is self-similar across all scales.
